

TAFT FIGHTING HARDEST FOR NEW JERSEY

Opens New Jersey Campaign Before Large Crowds.

DEFENDS HIS ADMINISTRATION

Tells People Whose Votes He Seeks That Great Danger to Constitutional Form of Government Lurks Behind Colonel Roosevelt's Candidacy. Says Predecessor Has Misrepresented His Written and Spoken Word—Has Not Lost Confidence.

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—In his campaign for New Jersey's 28 delegates to the Chicago convention, President Taft started in before a crowd of 5,000 at Camden and then jumped to this city, where he closed with an appeal to an audience that filled the big armory.

It was estimated that 8,000 persons listened to the president here and that many were turned away. In all speeches the president continued to ask for support solely on the record of his administration and the danger to constitutional government lurking in the Roosevelt candidacy. As in Massachusetts, Maryland and Ohio, he gave specific instances of where Roosevelt had misrepresented his written and spoken word, but his criticism of the colonel was noticeably more personal than it was in the Ohio fight.

Retains Confidence. While the president's friends spoke in the highest terms of the courage and cheerfulness shown by him in the face of most discouraging developments, those who have followed Mr. Taft in his pre-convention campaign could not help noticing that the strain of the contest is beginning to tell on him. The president spoke with less vigor than he did in the night in his home state and he seemed to be dispirited. To his admirers, however, the president still expresses confidence in the outcome of the Chicago convention, and insists on carrying the fight to the end. He was even considering the advisability of going to South Dakota after the New Jersey fight and contest the ground there with Roosevelt and LaFollette.

Unit Rule Meets With Opposition Of Demmies

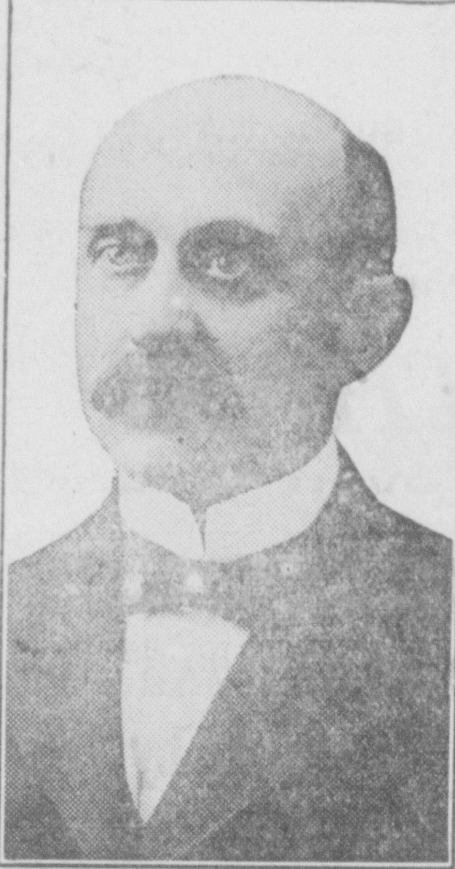

Democratic Conventions May Vote Against It

Columbus, O., May 24.—In the aftermath of Tuesday's Democratic primary, in which Governor Harmon carried the state by 13,000 and elected according to best available information, 25 district delegates—possibly 29—the big question that has arisen is the control of the state convention on the unit rule plan. On the face of returns from every county in the state the governor seems to be in easy control of the state convention, but many delegates have been clamoring against the unit rule and may prevent its adoption. The adoption of the rule is the only way in which Governor Harmon can have a solid Ohio delegation.

Conventions will be held in many counties, beginning today, and will decide the control of the state convention. There are indications that a number of counties will instruct their Governor Harmon but against the unit rule. Mayor Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, an anti-Harmon delegate, declared he wouldn't be bound by the unit rule even if it were adopted.

TWO WEEP AS VERDICT IS READ

Judge Calls Jurors Before Him and Calls Attention to Enormous Cost of Two Trials and Advises Them to Make Further Attempt to Reach Agreement—Two Who Held Out For Acquittal Won Over After Five Hours—Appeal Notice Filed.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Senator Isaac E. Huffman of Oxford, Butler county, was found guilty of accepting a $200 bribe from a Burns detective to influence his vote on the Cetone-Whittemore insurance bill, during the session of the general assembly, April 27, 1911. The jury spent two days in deliberating over the case.

The stoicism and apparent indifference which has marked Senator Huffman during both his trials remained with him when the clerk read the verdict of guilty. Not a single muscle of his face appeared to move and his pleasant expression was unchanged. Mrs. Huffman, who was at his side throughout the trials though visibly affected by the verdict, bore up as did her husband. With her were her mother and two women friends.

His attorneys at once gave notice to the court of their intention to file a motion for a new trial, and Senator Huffman was allowed to go under his old bond. As in the other bribery cases, the supreme court will be asked to reverse the jury's verdict. Sentence was deferred.

From the time the jury went out, at 4:40 p. m. Tuesday, two jurors held out for acquittal. Wednesday morning Judge Rathmell called the jurors and inquired of Edward C. Fraas, the foreman, as to the probability of a verdict being reached.

YOU may talk with friends hundreds of miles away if you have the advantage of an acquaintance with Elman B. Myers, the young New Yorker who has invented a method of wireless telephony. He says that he has spoken to wireless telegraph operators as much as 700 miles distant and has received their answers in the telegraphic code. The accompanying photograph shows the inventor in the station he has fitted up in his home and a part of his apparatus, the secret of which lies in the transmitting coils. Mr. Myers, who is only twenty, says that his invention may be utilized by the existing telephone systems and that it will eventually be possible to carry on conversations with persons a thousand miles at sea. He has been greatly interested in electricity since childhood and has for several years devoted himself to electrical engineering. Clarence T. Bartlett, co-inventor with Myers and of about the same age, is seen in the picture with his hand on his friend's shoulder.

Colonel Roosevelt Goes After New Jersey Delegates.

MAKES AUTO TOUR OF STATE

Is Greeted by Large Crowds of Workingmen Who Enter Into Spirit of Occasion by Declaring That Former President Has His Enemies on the Run—Speaker Devotes Most of Talk to Discussion of High Ideals, or "Fundamentals."

Newark, N. J., May 24.—When Theodore Roosevelt opened his campaign fight to win New Jersey's delegation to the Republican national convention in a flying dash through territory comprising more than half the population of the state, he found that the people had already taken up the enthusiasm that has been rolling along with him in his western campaign.

He opened his New Jersey campaign with a big boom at Paterson, where a throng of mill workers and laboring men roared for him in the armory. Later a rollicking, merry-making, happy crowd of Roosevelt fans packed themselves, standing, into the Essex troop armory at Newark and fairly sizzled with life and red-hot enthusiasm for the colonel. Ohio had fanned New Jersey's Roosevelt sentiment into a flame.

"What's the matter with Ohio?" a deep-throated rooster shouted at him in Newark.

"The impulsive judgment of the people of Ohio was all right," shouted back the colonel in his most humorous and happy squeak.

Says Everybody's All Right.

"Everybody's all right," he shot out. "Everybody's doing it now," the gallery god yelled back, and the big throng went into an uproar.

"Friends," and the colonel tossed back his head, threw out his chest and raised his arms, "I'm not worrying about anything. My enemies can't get me going."

"You've got the other fellows going, though," came back from the crowd, "and don't you worry about New Jersey."

What Colonel Roosevelt centered on was broad ideals and principles, the fundamentals, he called them, of the purpose he declared he has set himself to of securing equal opportunity and social and industrial justice for the masses.

Hot After The Scalp Of Preacher

Columbus, O., May 24.—Closing sessions of the Congregational conference of Ohio were marked by the adoption of a resolution which will attract attention. It was carried by a unanimous vote and asked that the Rev. Jacob E. Meeker, pastor of a wealthy congregational church in St. Louis, be expelled from the fellowship of the church for the action he took during the recent prohibition fight in several counties of the state. Rev. Meeker, it is said in the resolution, has "given great assistance to the liquor forces of Ohio in delivering a number of addresses in which he denounced local option and prohibition and advocated the open saloon."

FIGHT FOR THE BIG SIX BITTER

Brown Says Roosevelt Must Get Ohio's "Big Six."

Columbus, O., May 24.—As the Ohio victory for Colonel Roosevelt grows bigger in the number of district delegates elected—now 34 to 8 for Taft—it becomes certain that the fight for control of the Republican state convention, which will name six delegates to the Chicago convention, will be a bitter one. Walter F. Brown of Toledo, Roosevelt manager, declared for the first time that a fight would be made for the control of the state convention.

The first day's results were that Lucas county instructed its 22 delegates for Colonel Roosevelt, while Clark county sent a delegation of 11 to fight for President Taft. This leaves Colonel Roosevelt 377 and President Taft 377. This makes the contest a stand-off, as 378 are necessary to control. State Chairman Laylin still insisted the president will have more than 400 delegates out of 754 in the state convention.

Revised returns show that Frank M. Ransbottom, Taft candidate in the Fifteenth district, was beaten and W. A. Geer, Taft man, was beaten in the Thirteenth. The election of C. C. Eulass in the Sixth is still claimed by Taft men.

Washington, May 24.—Harvey W. Wiley, Jr., the 1-week-old son of the ex-chief chemist, is engaged to be married. His papa said so and named little Miss Allen, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Allen of Lexington, Ky., as the fiancée. Dr. Wiley said he had received a letter from Mr. Allen, who is an old friend and staunch supporter of the Wiley pure food ideas and state food commissioner of Kentucky, suggesting the "conditional engagement."

"I wrote them that I would gladly give my sanction and declared my sincere wish that both the youngsters might grow up to realize a love for each other," Wiley said. "Of course, it depends upon ratification by the two later," he concluded.

Government Takes No Chances In Cuban Revolt.

Washington, May 24.—Owing to the growing seriousness of the negro revolt in Cuba, the United States government is rushing 700 marines to the naval base at Guantanamo. The expedition is in command of Colonel Lincoln Carmany. The entire force should be landed at once to Guantanamo and await there the arrival of the Prairie.

Beside the marines on the transport Prairie, the gunboats Paducah and Nashville were also ordered to Guantanamo. The Paducah is now surveying off the eastern coast of Cuba and the Nashville is at Santo Domingo City. Both vessels were directed to proceed at once to Guantanamo and await there the arrival of the Prairie.

State department officials declared that the expedition was not to be regarded as an intervention or even an occupation in Cuba. The force, it was said, is being sent to provide further assurance that American life and property will be protected during the disturbances.

Dispatches indicated that the Cuban government, caught unawares, and hampered at first by failure to realize the significance of the revolt, is now best arranging themselves and seems likely to restore order shortly. Though professing absolute confidence in their ability to suppress promptly the negro uprising, the government officials of the highest rank are privately disclosing apprehension now that the extent of the negro organization is revealed.

HUGHEY WINS FIGHT BY SEVENTY-ONE VOTES

Last Returns Arrive at 9:30 This Morning Showing Fayette Candidate the Victor.

HUGHEY, 1,152; DUNLAP, 1,081

This County Sure of Landing Congressman in Chair at Fall Election.

All doubt has been removed and Dr. R. M. Hughey, of this city, has been declared the winner over Renick W. Dunlap in the race for the Congressional nomination on the Republican ticket. His plurality is 71 votes, and the little game of see-saw between the two candidates is ended.

The news was received in this city by The Herald at 9:30 Friday morning, when all figures obtainable had narrowed the fight down to fourteen votes between the two candidates, and these in favor of Hughey. Dr. Hughey was justly elated over his victory, as he had not fully conceded his own election, and indeed the figures received Thursday night were discouraging.

Thursday evening the official count from Pickaway was received, cutting down the unofficial plurality to 19, and later Clark county came in with five votes less than formerly announced, and all depended upon Miami, where nothing was sure about the extent of Dunlap's majority, which had been figured at 358. This proved to be 301.

The plurality of Hughey in Fayette and Clark counties totaled 1,152.

J. F. Dennis Brings Injunction Suit

J. F. Dennis, through Attorney H. H. Sanderson, Friday morning brought suit against Frank Evans & Con Ducey to prevent them from establishing a water pipe at the northwest corner of the Court House lawn where the defendants secure water for street sprinkling purposes.

The plaintiff claims that he owns certain property in the immediate neighborhood which will be damaged by the water pipe if it is placed in the place above mentioned, alleging that it creates an offensive, unhealthy, unsightly and filthy place in the street.

A temporary restraining order was issued by the court. Meanwhile the defendants are able to secure water for the streets by the use of a section of hose attached to one of the hydrants.

Why Don't Someone Tell Her About That Dreadful Odor of Perspiration?

Why don't some friend tell her to use Nioo—the deodorant Toilet Powder? It's easy and simple.

For awhile her friends suffered in silence, and then began regularly to shun her, for there is something in an offensive smell that will not only break up friendships. It will break up homes.

Nioo (pronounced Ny-ko) is a truly wonderful preparation only recently discovered. It positively is the only thing known that absolutely does away with all offensive body odors. Sprinkled in the armpits, on the feet or other portions of the body, it destroys every bit of odor immediately, and replaces it with a delicate, clean fragrance. The body smells as sweet and fresh as can be, and Nioo makes one feel like a thoroughbred from head to foot. There is nothing in the world like Nioo.

If you are a man you want Nioo.

Mayor Smith Accepts Banter

Friday morning while a large force of men were engaged in carrying heavy rolls of paper from one of the big transfer wagons to the storage rooms of The Herald office, Mayor Harvey W. Smith chanced to pass by, and stopped a moment to joke with the men.

—Carrying the big bundles of paper up the flight of steps was hard work, and the men said so. Finally one of the men told Mayor Smith that he did not believe he could carry one of the rolls.

The challenge was immediately accepted and, leaving his hat with one of the men, the mayor picked up one of the rolls, placed it on his shoulder and carried it up-stairs into the storage room without so much as removing his cigar from his mouth.

The feat won him the plaudits of the men below.

This place was chosen at a meeting of the executive committee held in Chillicothe. Those of the committee attending the meeting in Chillicothe were: O. N. Sams, chairman, Hillsboro; Geo. C. Seller, secretary, Wellston; B. F. Bedford, Circleville; A. I. McVey, Blanchester, and C. C. Jack, of Chillicothe.

The local bankers will be consulted to ascertain if the date selected will be acceptable, after which the meeting will be called.

Bold Young Highwayman Attacks School Teacher

A bold attempt at highway robbery occurred at Clarksburg a night or two ago, when Miss Grace Bowen, a young school teacher of the village was attacked while returning to her boarding place.

It seems that Miss Bowen was on her way to her boarding place about 9:30 o'clock, having been visiting some friends a short distance from the village, and was walking alone.

When about half way home, some one sprang from the darkness of some bushes, grabbed her by the throat and threw her to the roadway.

Miss Bowen did not lose her presence of mind but let out a few lusty screams, and this so frightened the young robber that he ran away, but not before Miss Bowen had a good chance to recognize him as Bill Bradford, an unsavory young fellow of the village. As soon as she reached home she reported the matter and a warrant was sworn out for Bradford's arrest before Squire Peck.

Bradford is 17 years old, and has been in several scrapes and a charge is now pending against him in the Probate court. It is also alleged that about a month ago, he got into a most serious difficulty, but that the case was hushed up as a relative was involved.

The warrant for the assault on Miss Bowen was served on Bradford by Marshal Floyd Noble and the boy placed under arrest.

Opposes Tax On Municipal Bond

Bankers throughout the state are taking a decisive position in opposition to the proposal of the constitutional convention to make municipal bonds taxable. It is the belief of a great majority of the bankers, who probably study these questions deeper than the everyday business man or the laborer, that the proposal defeats its own purpose, that of increasing the revenues of the state. Mr. A. S. Ballard, president of the Commercial bank of Washington C. H., who is one of the foremost students of banking and investments in the state, while here yesterday expressed himself as opposed to the proposal. He called attention to the fact that the tabulated classified tax returns on file in the office of the Auditor of State, shows that in no year previous to the constitutional amendment of 1905 under which municipal bonds were exempted from taxation, did such bonds reach the duplicate in an amount equal to 5 per cent. of the total outstanding municipal indebtedness of the state. The state was enabled to tax one dollar of its bonds out of each twenty, but in order to accomplish this was compelled to pay interest rates on its total indebtedness, averaging about 40 per cent, higher than the rates obtaining under the present constitutional exemption. As to the question of alleged immorality in evading taxes by investing in tax exempt bonds, Mr. Ballard is of the opinion that there is really no ethical question involved in taking advantage of legal privileges derived from the action of a legally constituted law-making body. The question of immorality in escaping taxation by recourse to legal privileges is thus shifted to the state. By exerting its power to tax its own bonds, according to Mr. Ballard, the state is enabled to extort from its bondholding creditors a large portion of the interest it has solemnly promised to pay. Justification of such an abrogation of the contractual rights of creditors, in the opinion of Mr. Ballard, would almost justify an extension of such pretended right to abrogation of the agreement as regards the amount of principal to be paid.—Ohio State Journal.

If we can't sell our high-priced suits early in the season, it's dollars to doughnuts we won't sell them later on.

The weather we've just gone thru—well, you know. So we've taken some of our $22 and $25 Suits and have put them in the $18.00 and $20.00

Four Kinds Of Novels

There are four kinds of novels.

First—Those that are easy to read and hard to remember: the well-told tales of no consequence, the cream-puffs of perishable fiction.

Second—Those that are hard to read and hard to remember: the purpose of novels which are tedious sermons in disguise, and the love-tales in which there is no one with whom it is possible to fall in love.

Third—Those that are hard to read and easy to remember: the books with a crust of perverse style or faulty construction through which the reader must break in order to get at the rich and vital meaning.

Fourth—Those that are easy to read and easy to remember: the novels in which stories worth telling are well told, and characters worth observing are vividly painted, and life is interpreted to the imagination in enduring forms of literary art. These are the best sellers which do not go out of print—everybody's books.

In this fourth-class healthy-minded people and unprejudiced critics put the novels of Charles Dickens. For millions of readers they have fulfilled what Dr. Johnson called the purpose of good books, it teaches us to enjoy life or help us to endure it. They have awakened multitudinous laughter and drawn forth innumerable sympathetic tears. They have enlarged and enriched existence by revealing the hidden veins of humor and pathos beneath the surface of the every-day world, and by giving "the freedom of the city" to those poor prisoners who had thought of it only as a dwelling place of so many hundred thousand inhabitants and no real persons.

What a city it was that Dickens opened to us! London, of course, in outward form and semblance,—the London of the early Victorian epoch. —Scribner's.

HUGHEY WINS FIGHT BY SEVENTY-ONE VOTES

Last Returns Arrive at 9:30 This Morning Showing Fayette Candidate the Victor.

HUGHEY, 1,152; DUNLAP, 1,081

This County Sure of Landing Congressman in Chair at Fall Election.

All doubt has been removed and Dr. R. M. Hughey, of this city, has been declared the winner over Renick W. Dunlap in the race for the Congressional nomination on the Republican ticket. His plurality is 71 votes, and the little game of see-saw between the two candidates is ended.

The news was received in this city by The Herald at 9:30 Friday morning, when all figures obtainable had narrowed the fight down to fourteen votes between the two candidates, and these in favor of Hughey. Dr. Hughey was justly elated over his victory, as he had not fully conceded his own election, and indeed the figures received Thursday night were discouraging.

Thursday evening the official count from Pickaway was received, cutting down the unofficial plurality to 19, and later Clark county came in with five votes less than formerly announced, and all depended upon Miami, where nothing was sure about the extent of Dunlap's majority, which had been figured at 358. This proved to be 301.

The plurality of Hughey in Fayette and Clark counties totaled 1152.

J. F. Dennis Brings Injunction Suit

J. F. Dennis, through Attorney H. H. Sanderson, Friday morning brought suit against Frank Evans & Con Dukey to prevent them from establishing a water pipe at the north-west corner of the Court House lawn where the defendants secure water for street sprinkling purposes.

The plaintiff claims that he owns certain property in the immediate neighborhood which will be damaged by the water pipe if it is placed in the place above mentioned, alleging that it creates an offensive, unhealthy, unsightly and filthy place in the street.

A temporary restraining order was issued by the court. Meanwhile the defendants are able to secure water for the streets by the use of a section of hose attached to one of the hydrants.

Why Don't Someone Tell Her About That Dreadful Odor of Perspiration?

Why don't some friend tell her to use Nioce—the deodorant Toilet Powder? It's easy and simple.
For while her friends suffered in silence, and then began regularly to shun her, for there is something in an offensive smell that will not only break up friendships. It will break up homes.
Nioce (pronounced Ny-ko) is a truly wonderful preparation only recently discovered. It positively is the only thing known that absolutely does away with all offensive body odors. Sprinkled in the arm pits, on the feet or other portions of the body, it destroys every bit of odor immediately, and replaces it with a delicate, clean fragrance. The body smells as sweet and fresh as can be, and Nioce makes one feel like a thoroughbred from head to foot. There is nothing in the world like Nioce.
If you are a woman you need Nioce.
If you are a man you want Nioce.
If you are a lady you are grateful for Nioce.
If you are an old person you bless Nioce.

Mayor Smith Accepts Banter

Friday morning while a large force of men were engaged in carrying heavy rolls of paper from one of the big transfer wagons to the storage rooms of The Herald office, Mayor Harvey W. Smith chanced to pass by, and stopped a moment to joke with the men.

Carrying the big bundles of paper up the flight of steps was hard work, and the men said so. Finally one of the men told Mayor Smith that he did not believe he could carry one of the rolls.

The challenge was immediately accepted and, leaving his hat with one of the men, the mayor picked up one of the rolls, placed it on his shoulder and carried it up-stairs into the storage room without so much as removing his cigar from his mouth.

The feat won him the plaudits of the men below.

OVER 125 BANKERS MEET HERE JUNE 20

On June 20th, if another date is not selected later, the bankers of ten counties composing Group Four will meet in this city for an all-day session, and from 125 to 150 bankers are expected to attend the meeting.

Group Four consists of Fayette, Clinton, Ross, Highland, Jackson, Brown, Adams, Vinton, Pike and Scioto counties, and each one of the counties will be represented by practically every banker in it.

This place was chosen at a meeting of the executive committee held in Chillicothe. Those of the committee attending the meeting in Chillicothe were: O. N. Sams, chairman, Hillsboro; Geo. C. Sells, secretary, Wellston; B. F. Bedford, Circleville; A. I. McVey, Blanchester, and C. C. Jack, of Chillicothe.

The local bankers will be consulted to ascertain if the date selected will be acceptable, after which the meeting will be called.

Bold Young Highwayman Attacks School Teacher

A bold attempt at highway robbery occurred at Clarksburg a night or two ago when Miss Grace Bowen, a young school teacher of the village was attacked while returning to her boarding place.

It seems that Miss Bowen was on her way to her boarding place about 9:30 o'clock, having been visiting some friends a short distance from the village, and was walking alone.

When about half way home, some one sprang from the darkness of some bushes, grabbed her by the throat and threw her to the roadway.

Miss Bowen did not lose her presence of mind but let out a few lusty screams, and this so frightened the young robber that he ran away, but not before Miss Bowen had a good chance to recognize him as Bill Bradford, an unsavory young fellow of the village. As soon as she reached home she reported the matter and a warrant was sworn out for Bradford's arrest before Squire Peck.

Bradford is 17 years old, and has been in several scrapes and a charge is now pending against him in the Probate court. It is also alleged that about a month ago, he got into a most serious difficulty, but that the case was hushed up as a relative was involved.

The warrant for the assault on Miss Bowen was served on Bradford by Marshal Floyd Noble and the boy placed under arrest.

Opposes Tax On Municipal Bond

Bankers throughout the state are taking a decisive position in opposition to the proposal of the constitutional convention to make municipal bonds taxable. It is the belief of a great majority of the bankers, who probably study these questions deeper than the everyday business man or the laborer, that the proposal defeats its own purpose, that of increasing the revenues of the state. Mr. A. S. Ballard, president of the Commercial bank of Washington C. H., who is one of the foremost students of banking and investments in the state, while here yesterday expressed himself as opposed to the proposal. He called attention to the fact that the tabulated classified tax returns on file in the office of the Auditor of State, shows that in no year previous to the constitutional amendment of 1905 under which municipal bonds were exempted from taxation, did such bonds reach the duplicate in an amount equal to 5 per cent. of the total outstanding municipal indebtedness of the state. The state was enabled to tax one dollar of its bonds out of each twenty, but in order to accomplish this was compelled to pay interest rates on its total indebtedness, averaging about 40 per cent. higher than the rates obtaining under the present constitutional exemption. As to the question of alleged immorality in evading taxes by investing in tax exempt bonds, Mr. Ballard is of the opinion that there is really no ethical question involved in taking advantage of legal privileges derived from the action of a legally constituted law-making body. The question of immorality in escaping taxation by recourse to legal privileges is thus shifted to the state. By exerting its power to tax its own bonds, according to Mr. Ballard, the state is enabled to extort from its bondholding creditors a large portion of the interest it has solemnly promised to pay. Justification of such an abrogation of the contractual rights of creditors, in the opinion of Mr. Ballard, would almost justify an extension of such pretended right to abrogation of the agreement as regards the amount of principal to be paid.—Ohio State Journal.

THIRTY-SIXTH COMMENCEMENT

At Grace Church Attended by Large Gathering---Many Nota-

ney General Hogan.

The thirty-sixth commencement of the Washington C. H. High school has come and gone, and in its passing has added one more notable success to the line of its memorable predecessors and brought to a brilliant close one more chapter in High school annals.

Grace church held a splendid audience Thursday night, parents, friends and the public generally and the sustained interest which attended the commencement program was evinced in eager faces and continuous plaudits.

Beneath the illumination of myriad incandescents, the class of 1912 were seated in semi circles on the stage, thirty-nine young men and women wearing the collegiate cap and gown. It was a class in which the audience might well take pride. Unprecedented was the fact that the boys decidedly outnumbered the girls and were a fine looking, manly bunch of fellows. No less prepossessing were the bright faced girls, bringing to their graduation high standards of scholarship.

Palms formed a low screen in the foreground and overhead swayed the blue and gold, chosen colors of the class, with an immense pennant flaunting the class numerals in the center.

Rev. T. W. Locke, of Grace church, offered the invocation, followed by a beautiful chorus, "A May Morning," artistically rendered by the Girls' Glee club of the High school.

Supt. McClain briefly introduced the two orations of the evening by saying that it had been the custom for the last two years for the honor pupils to represent the class. This year two pupils had maintained the highest honors in the four-years course and were within 4-19 per cent of each other, so that the salutatory and valedictory had given way to the simple announcement of orations by Miss Prudence Culhan and Miss Ruth VanKirk, both honor students.

Miss Culhan delivered an excellent production on "China," its subject matter not only of marked interest, but showing considerable depth of study. Culled in a few minutes talk was large information upon China, its literature, arts and crafts, its turbulent history, with the Manchu dynasty, Boxer uprisings and revolutions.

The United States may have to come to China's help in the solution of her troubles.

Miss Culhan was very pleasing and graceful in her presentations and her voice clear and distinct.

The Boys' Glee club rendered a difficult chorus, "The Sword of Ferrara," F. S. Bullard, with splendid spirit and volume, between the orations.

Miss Van Kirk answered the question, "Am I My Brother's Keeper," a question all ages are forced to decide, forcefully. The bright young student was earnest and convincing in her argument and her delivery was very good. She touched briefly upon the great institutions provided for the weaker brother; the legislative attempts to right his wrongs and correct his abuses.

Miss Van Kirk cited as the culmination of catastrophes resulting in lack of care for the brother the Titanic disaster, and closed finely with the thought that, "It behooves us to make it impossible for man's greed or desire to excel to imperil the lives of his fellow man. We want men who will not be tainted by bribery or corrupted by politics; who will establish a new code of honor and make possible the highest moral standards."

After a second melodious number by the Girls' Glee club, Miss Gladys Brakefield, one of the graduates, accompanist, Supt. McClain introduced Mr. J. Knox Montgomery, president of Muskingum college, who delivered a fine address to the class.

In a particularly forceful way, livened with pertinent humor and anecdote, President Montgomery presented "The Philosophy of Happiness." The speaker cited as the preachment of the hour that one cannot live completely unless useful; cannot live happily unless useful, "the highway to happiness is not on the pathway of its search, but on the lowly road of service to our fellow men. He who has no other mission in the world than to advance his own interests can be of no value to the world."

The entire address was an inspiration to be a builder than a wrecker, and to use education for the bettering and brightening of the world.

Dr. Montgomery sat down amid prolonged applause, terminated by the Boys' Glee club in a taking chorus, "De Coppah Moon," Miss Lillian Davis accompanist. The number of caps and gowns in this Glee club made evident that the going out of the class of 1912 would mean much to this popular club.

Dr. W. E. Ireland, with felicitous words of commendation and good wishes presented the diplomas to the following graduates.

No less prepossessing were the bright faced girls, bringing to their graduation high standards of scholarship.

Palms formed a low screen in the foreground and overhead swayed the blue and gold, chosen colors of the class, with an immense pennant flaunting the class numerals in the center.

Rev. T. W. Locke, of Grace church, offered the invocation, followed by a beautiful chorus, "A May Morning," artistically rendered by the Girls' Glee club of the High school.

Supt. McClain briefly introduced the two orations of the evening by saying that it had been the custom for the last two years for the honor pupils to represent the class. This year two pupils had maintained the highest honors in the four-years course and were within 4-19 per cent of each other, so that the salutatory and valedictory had given way to the simple announcement of orations by Miss Prudence Culhan and Miss Ruth VanKirk, both honor students.

Miss Culhan delivered an excellent production on "China," its subject matter not only of marked interest, but showing considerable depth of study. Culled in a few minutes talk was large information upon China, its literature, arts and crafts, its turbulent history, with the Manchu dynasty, Boxer uprisings and revolutions.

The United States may have, to come to China's help in the solution of her troubles.

Miss Culhan was very pleasing and graceful in her presentations and her voice clear and distinct.

The Boys' Glee club rendered a difficult chorus, "The Sword of Ferrara", F. S. Bullard, with splendid spirit and volume, between the orations.

Miss Van Kirk answered the question, "Am I My Brother's Keeper," a question all ages are forced to decide, forcefully. The bright young student was earnest and convincing in her argument and her delivery was very good. She touched briefly upon the great institutions provided for the weaker brother; the legislative attempts to right his wrongs and correct his abuses.

Miss Van Kirk cited as the culmination of catastrophes resulting in lack of care for the brother the Titanic disaster, and closed finely with the thought that, "It behooves us to make it impossible for man's greed or desire to excel to imperil the lives of his fellow man. We want men who will not be tainted by bribery or corrupted by politics; who will establish a new code of honor and make possible the highest moral standards."

After a second melodious number by the Girls' Glee club, Miss Gladys Brakefield, one of the graduates, accompanied Supt. McClain introduced Mr. J. Knox Montgomery, president of Muskingum college, who delivered a fine address to the class.

In a particularly forceful way, livened with pertinent humor and anecdote, President Montgomery presented "The Philosophy of Happiness." The speaker cited as the preachment of the hour that one cannot live completely unless useful; cannot live happily unless useful, "the highway to happiness is not on the pathway of its search, but on the lowly road of service to our fellow men. He who has no other mission in the world than to advance his own interests can be of no value to the world."

The entire address was an inspiration to be a builder than a wrecker, and to use education for the bettering and brightening of the world.

Dr. Montgomery sat down amid prolonged applause, terminated by the Boys' Glee club in a taking chorus, "De Coppah Moon." Miss Lillian Davis accompanied. The number of caps and gowns in this Glee club made evident that the going out of the class of 1912 would mean much to this popular club.

Dr. W. E. Ireland, with felicitous words of commendation and good wishes presented the diplomas to the following graduates.

V. Haines, Earl J. Henkleman, Jean M. Howat, C. Elliott Jefferson, Samuel John McDowell, Clifford Peddicord, Ralph J. Strobel, Anna Grace Taylor, Nona Thompson, Ruth VanKirk, Charles S. Willis, in the Latin course; Nellie Bishop, Walter Blackmore, Gladys Brakefield, Hays Dill, Gertrude Dunn, Ned Erskine, Lawrence A. Garringer, Edna Klever, Clyde M. Lee, Alice Loofbourrow, James McDonald, Orris McGinnis, Earl M. Michael, George Miller, Hazel Patterson, Glenn Roseboom, Walter E. Sprenger, Roy A. Tharp, in the Latin-German course; Jane Prudence Culhan, Nellie Miller, in the Latin and German course.

Supt. McClain then presented three scholarships from the O. W. U. and one from Muskingum college to the four pupils having the highest grades for the past four years, Miss Jane Prudence Culhan, Miss Ruth VanKirk, Ned Erskine, Miss Nellie Miller.

There were six others in the class who ranked above 90 for the past four years.

Through some accident the music for the class song, written by Robert Cullen, had been lost, and in its place Supt. McClain offered a few well chosen words, expressing the pleasure which he now had in opening the gateway of life and the hope that there would be no insurmountable or broken roads.

While Miss Light played an organ march, the class made an impressive exit.

A feature of the commencement program that met with general approval, was the music furnished by the Glee clubs. Both of these clubs have been dominant factors in the High school and very popular with the public. Miss Sheen, teacher of music, has given them splendid training and they have scored success very unusual among High school Glee clubs.

With the commencement of 1912 closes a school year of excellent work, with Supt. Wm. McClain at the helm, most gratifying to school patrons.

The High school corps include: D. A. Ferree, principal, Latin; O. K. Probasco, Science; Amy V. Conn, English and Algebra; Elizabeth Dana, Art; Haldee Van Winkle, History; F. B. McElwain, German and Geometry; E. Cree Butler, Commerce; Mabel Graham, English and Algebra; Elizabeth Sheen, Music; Wm. McClain, Superintendent.

The board of Education is: W. E. Ireland, M. D., President; Robert Howat, Clerk; D. S. Craig, W. W. Hamilton, J. M. Willis, J. W. Duffee.

THE PROBES.

A great many people are, very often, inclined to hope that we may enjoy a rest from the probe news, with which the news columns of the day are crowded.

Indeed, many hope that when the news of probes and probers does stop that it will be a full period and the probe work, which has become such a fad with all legislative bodies, state and national, may cease for all time.

That hope necessarily carries with it the hope that the need of probes may cease to exist, although people who have become surfeited with probe news may not realize that it is the primary cause that they hope may cease to exist.

From present indications we will continue to have probe news for some time to come, and the reading public may just as well settle back in the easy chair prepared to read of all kinds of probes for an indefinite length of time.

The necessity for probes instead of falling back or vanishing altogether before the probe movements seems to be increasing in size, importance and disastrous effects, all the time.

The nation seems to be combination mad and almost every conceivable avenue of trade is being clogged with an effort to combine or a combination already formed by those engaged in business.

No matter what line of business it is in these days, a movement to combine is either on foot or already an accomplished fact.

The scramble to combine seems to have been seized upon by the great majority of smaller business men as the only means of protection against the larger combinations which continue to thrive and to multiply, in spite of all our boasted probes.

It may be that after all the only solution of the problem will be found in the very multiplicity of combinations.

Where probes fail to break up the practice the very universal existence of the "octopus" may render resort to that method of doing business unprofitable.

POSSIBILITY OF TROUBLE.

The strike or mutiny, no matter which word is preferred in characterizing the action of the players of the Detroit baseball club in refusing to "play ball" because a fellow player, Tyrus Cobb, had been suspended, presented for the first time in the long prosperous history of the great game, an entirely new situation.

Cobb, perhaps the most skillful and certainly the most famous player in the world, lost control of his temper during the progress of a game in New York City and assaulted a spectator who had been directing abusive and vile language toward the hot-blooded Southerner.

Cobb was suspended pending an investigation, by the League president, and his fellow players, believing it unjust to punish Cobb refused to play the scheduled game.

Three days of rebellion served, however, to prove to the players that they were only sawing off the limb on which they roosted and they surrendered.

There is perhaps no more thoroughly organized "business," for that is just what it is, than baseball—that is the magnates end of it, and there is perhaps no larger body of men who might in a sense be denominated laboring men, unorganized than baseball players.

The strike of the Detroit players promised unpleasant possibilities all around, and it is well for players, for magnates and the game that the present crisis is over.

Best and Manliest Boys Are Those Taught By Women Teachers

By Miss GRACE STRACHAN, President of the Interborough Association of Women Teachers of New York

AMERICAN boys and young men are not effeminate because of their being taught by women teachers in our schools.

I BELIEVE THAT THE BEST AND MANLIEST AND MOST WORTH WHILE BOYS ARE THOSE WHO ARE UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF A COMPETENT WOMAN TEACHER.

I believe that she, better than most men, can bring out the fine natural traits; can make her boys HIGH MINDED AND CLEAN AND STRONG. She doesn't weaken them, but she does refine them, and her influence is exactly what they need most at the critical formative period.

The games, the work, the companions, of the average boy are so intensely and invariably masculine he needs something to BRING OUT HIS GENTLER CHARACTERISTICS. Sometimes his mother effects this, but in the large cities the teacher is thrust into the mother's place on many occasions. She gives the REAL SOFTENING MOTHER INFLUENCE to many a growing boy. But she doesn't make him effeminate. "The bravest are the tenderest," you know; "the loving are the daring."

Poetry—Today

AS IT WAS AND WILL BE.

(As it used to be written.)
When grandma danced the minuet
A hundred years ago—
Ah, how the music echoes yet,
All stately and all slow!
White hands whose fingers gently meet
The fingers of the beau,
And powdered hair and slipped feet—
A hundred years ago.

With graceful bow they turn and tread
The measures to and fro,
A haughty pose has grandma's head,
Her eyes a gentle glow;
Those were the days none will forget,
The days of belle and beau—
When grandma danced the minuet
A hundred years ago.

(As it will be written next century.)
When grandma danced the turkey trot
She chirruped "Let her go!"
The critics said an awful lot,
All interspersed with "Oh!"
But grandma tossed her bonny head,
Her cheeks with rouge aglow,
And "Let's cut loose again," she said,
A hundred years ago.

Her picture was known far and wide,
The papers made it so—
But not because dear grandma tried
To get in print, you know.
"A minuet?" she cried, "Great Scott!
That old stuff is too slow."
So grandma danced the turkey trot
A hundred years ago.

LIFE'S DISAPPOINTMENTS

Jury Finds Huffman Guilty

Mr. Fraas reported there was no hope, and other jurors concurred with him.

The court then told the jury in plain language that it was its duty, both to the defendant and the state, to agree upon a verdict. He enumerated the enormous cost which had already been incurred by the two trials.

Within five hours after the court's instructions, the verdict was agreed upon.

Two Favored Acquittal.

Tears stood in the eyes of the two jurors who had tried to hold out against the 10, as they took their seats in the box to report the verdict. One was an old man with silver hair and the other a stout young fellow. The close confinement in which they have been kept showed visibly on all. Several appeared to be almost worn out.

The alibi Senator Huffman built in the first trial and which was practically impregnable, was shattered in the second hearing by the testimony of Senator Reynolds of Cuyahoga county, Senator Johnson of Hamilton county, and a number of Cincinnati persons, who appeared before the senate April 27, 1911, the date of the alleged bribe-giving.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Death Takes General Orr.

Piqua, O., May 24.—After an illness of weeks, General W. P. Orr, 78, died at his home in this city. His condition had been critical several days and his family had anticipated the end. General Orr was widely known in political and business circles. He was a Republican and during the administration of Governor Bushnell served as quartermaster general. In 1900 he was a McKinley elector and in 1890 and in 1892 was an unsuccessful candidate for congress. In 1908 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention.

Coal Company Loses Suit.

Jackson, O., May 24.—Two judgments entered here are the largest and smallest ever rendered in a Jackson county court. One is a judgment for $1,930,000 against the Superior Coal company in favor of the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York; the other extreme is allowed W. W. Leudermilk, 15 cents against the local gas company for labor.

Bullets End Family Troubles.

Medina, O., May 24.—Elvin Fritz, 30, shot and killed Myrtle Fritz, 27, his divorced wife, then shot and killed himself at their home in Spencer, 15 miles west of here. Mrs. Fritz had gone upstairs to get her clothes. Her husband followed her upstairs, locked the room and then committed the crime.

Held on Murder Charge.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Miss Cecilia Farley, state bureau clerk, who confessed to shooting Alvin E. Zolner, and Jerome Quigley, Neil House clerk, her fiancé, who was present or near by when the shooting occurred, are both held for the grand jury without bond on a first degree murder charge.

Testimony Favors Trust.

Cleveland, O., May 24.—Six more 5 and 10-cent wallpaper dealers testified they had been able to obtain all the paper needed from the defendants in the government's suit against eight wallpaper manufacturers and jobbers for conspiracy in refusing to sell the low-priced dealers.

THE CON-CON IS AS BUSY AS THE BEE

Passes Sixteen Proposals, Including $50,000,000 Road Bond Issue.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Among proposals finally approved by the constitutional convention were the good roads clause, authorizing a maximum of $50,000,000 bonds for good roads, and the Farrell workingmen's proposal, one of whose provisions allows the general assembly to fix a minimum wage.

In spite of the arguments advanced by Judge Caleb Norr's of Marion the convention approved the Elson jury reform proposal by a vote of 95 to 4. As it will go before the people it provides that in all civil cases nine jurors may return a verdict.

Sixteen proposals were adopted in the exact form in which they will be submitted to the people, and require only popular approval to make them fit automatically into their proper places in the fundamental law of the state.

Labor and the classes of men and women employed in large industrial establishments scored heavily in the proposals adopted. A large proportion of them are aimed in one manner or another to contribute to the welfare of the people.

CITY EXAMINATION.

Notice is hereby given that the first examination of teachers for the city schools for the year 1912-13 will be held at the High school building Saturday, May 25, 1912, commencing promptly at 8:30 a. m.

By order of the Board of Examiners.

Mr. Fraas reported there was no hope, and other jurors concurred with him.

The court then told the jury in plain language that it was its duty, both to the defendant and the state, to agree upon a verdict. He enumerated the enormous cost which had already been incurred by the two trials.

Within five hours after the court's instructions, the verdict was agreed upon.

Two Favored Acquittal.

Tears stood in the eyes of the two jurors who had tried to hold out against the 10, as they took their seats in the box to report the verdict. One was an old man with silver hair and the other a stout young fellow. The close confinement in which they have been kept showed visibly on all. Several appeared to be almost worn out.

The alibi Senator Huffman built in the first trial and which was practically impregnable, was shattered in the second hearing by the testimony of Senator Reynolds of Cuyahoga county, Senator Johnson of Hamilton county, and a number of Cincinnati persons, who appeared before the senate April 27, 1911, the date of the alleged bribe-giving.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Death Takes General Orr.

Piqua, O., May 24.—After an illness of weeks, General W. P. Orr, 78, died at his home in this city. His condition had been critical several days and his family had anticipated the end. General Orr was widely known in political and business circles. He was a Republican and during the administration of Governor Bushnell served as quartermaster general. In 1900 he was a McKinley elector and in 1890 and in 1892 was an unsuccessful candidate for congress. In 1908 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention.

Coal Company Loses Suit.

Jackson, O., May 24.—Two judgments entered here are the largest and smallest ever rendered in a Jackson county court. One is a judgment for $1,930,000 against the Superior Coal company in favor of the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York; the other extreme is allowed W. W. Loudermilk, 15 cents against the local gas company for labor.

Bullets End Family Troubles.

Medina, O., May 24.—Elvin Fritz, 30, shot and killed Myrtle Fritz, 27, his divorced wife, then shot and killed himself at their home in Spencer, 15 miles west of here. Mrs. Fritz had gone upstairs to get her clothes. Her husband followed her upstairs, locked the room and then committed the crime.

Held on Murder Charge.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Miss Cecilia Farley, state bureau clerk, who confessed to shooting Alvin E. Zolinger, and Jerome Quigley, Neil House clerk, her fiancé, who was present or near by when the shooting occurred, are both held for the grand jury without bond on a first degree murder charge.

Testimony Favors Trust.

Cleveland, O., May 24.—Six more 5 and 10-cent wallpaper dealers testified they had been able to obtain all the paper needed from the defendants in the government's suit against eight wallpaper manufacturers and jobbers for conspiracy in refusing to sell the low-priced dealers.

THE CON-CON IS AS BUSY AS THE BEE

Passes Sixteen Proposals, Including $50,000,000 Road Bond Issue.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Among proposals finally approved by the constitutional convention were the good roads clause, authorizing a maximum of $50,000,000 bonds for good roads, and the Farrell workingmen's proposal, one of whose provisions allows the general assembly to fix a minimum wage.

In spite of the arguments advanced by Judge Caleb Norr of Marion the convention approved the Elson jury reform proposal by a vote of 95 to 4. As it will go before the people it provides that in all civil cases nine jurymen may return a verdict.

Sixteen proposals were adopted in the exact form in which they will be submitted to the people, and require only popular approval to make them fit automatically into their proper places in the fundamental law of the state.

Labor and the classes of men and women employed in large industrial establishments scored heavily in the proposals adopted. A large proportion of them are aimed in one manner or another to contribute to the welfare of the people.

CITY EXAMINATION.

Notice is hereby given that the first examination of teachers for the city schools for the year 1912-13 will be held at the High school building Saturday, May 25, 1912, commencing promptly at 8:30 a. m.

By order of the Board of Examiners.

The Gibson Vaudeville Company under the management of Charles C. Rector, played to large crowds here Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday night. They have a brand new outfit that is first-class in every way, and they gave shows that attracted people night after night, and that were well spoken of on the street. Mr. and Mrs. Rector, Meridith Foy and Robert Harris put on the performance that is said to have produced as many laughs per minute as any program ever given here. This week they are showing at Atlanta. Their many friends here hope they will make money on the venture.—Williamsport News.

Alaska, America's Great Storehouse

Evidently the people of this country are more interested in Alaska than ever before. Every newspaper in the country prints something about it at least once a week, and nearly every one of them are asked about twice that often to print something else.

Forty-seven years ago when William H. Seward was secretary of state, negotiations for the purchase and sale of Alaska by the United States and Russia were closed. For some time previous to that, Russia had been endeavoring to have the United States purchase the country, but there had been much opposition to the proposition in governmental circles at Washington. Seward, however, believed in Alaska, and he concluded the negotiations by recommending to the government that Russia be paid $7,200,000 for all of her possessions in this side of the Behring straits.

But no sooner was the purchase made than Secretary Seward began to be denounced. Alaska was called "Seward's Folly," in derision, and the great secretary spent many unhappy moments over the affair. Time, however, has vindicated his judgment and today the United States would hardly entertain a proposition to sell the country at any price.

Last year more than sixteen million dollars in gold was brought to this country from Alaska, and that represented but a small proportion of the total that has been taken from the mines. The seal fisheries, to which we would have had no title had it not been for the purchase of Alaska has netted this country other millions. And it is admitted by all students of the country that the beginning of the flow of wealth from the great northland peninsula has hardly begun. It is known that the country abounds in coal and copper and silver as well as gold, and the Agricultural Department claims that great areas of splendid farming lands are also to be found in the country.

In fact, Alaska is coming to be looked upon as America's great storehouse. It has a population at this time of nearly a hundred thousand, but it ought easily to support a population of five or ten million or even more. It is believed by many that it will be the greatest mining country in the world in the next generation, and that all of the Pacific slope will be drawing upon the hills and valleys of Alaska for their coal and copper and other minerals within a remarkably short time. — Dayton News.

Where Brains Are Cheap

The range of salaries for the heads and faculties of state-aided institutions of higher learning in this country is given in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Education.

According to this authority one can see that Bert Williams the negro comedian, can make a great deal more money than even the highest type of college President. The best paid head of any institution of this class is the President of the University of California, who receives $12,000 a year and a house. The Presidents of Illinois University and Cornell University each receive $10,000 a year and a house, while the President of the University of Minnesota gets $10,000 without a house.

From these figures the Presidents' salaries run down as low as $2,400. The salaries of the faculty members range from $500 a year for the least paid tutor to $6,000 a year for the best paid full professor, both extremes being touched at Cornell.

The Bureau of Education's bulletin shows that the United States now contains exactly 100 universities and other institutions of higher education which depend in considerable measure on the state or Federal Government for their support.

Of these 16 are agricultural and mechanical colleges for negroes. Four of these state-aided institutions have more than 400 members on their faculties—namely, the University of California, with a faculty of 421; the University of Illinois, with 530; Cornell University with 652; and the University of Wisconsin, with 486.

The biggest gift reported by the colleges considered for the period under discussion—namely, the college year ended last June 30—came to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which benefits to the extent of $1,410,000 from the generosity of three donors. The University of Illinois reports that the State Legislature has appropriated $3,519,300 for its support for the next two years, and has also made provisions for future of the institution by levying a one-mill tax, which two years hence should allow it about $2,500,000 a year. Cornell has construction work on hand which will cost $1,052,000.

The Bureau of Education's bulletin also notes all charges in courses and methods of instruction of these institutions for the period under discussion; records the gifts, buildings and improvements; contains a directory of the institutions; shows the student enrollment and inventories their property and income.—Exchange.

It required nearly a day for a large force of men and two big transfer wagons of Tysor and Thompson to move the twenty-odd tons of paper from the car on the C. H. & D. sid-ing on Fayette street to The Herald Publishing Company's plant on Court street.

The immense amount of paper re- quired in the rapidly growing busi- ness of The Herald and the increased demand for this print paper togeth- er with the continued advance in the price of paper, rendered this large purchase imperative.

During the last few weeks a com- bination of the paper manufactures has resulted in a tremendous advance in all kinds of paper, including news stock, and the best quotation now on print paper in ton lots is $60 per ton. The increase in prices is unpre- cedentedly heavy and is made with little or no notice to publishers or paper dealers.

Here is a statement from Mr. J. B. House, of 381 Twentieth Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., who has tried "Tona Vita." "I was all run down intensely nervous and suffered with the most violent headaches. I felt tired and dull all day, my body seemed benumbed at times, and I did not sleep well. My digestion was imperfect and I was continually con- stipated. As soon as I ate anything

A MILLIONAIRE FOR A DAY

Important Change Of Time on B. & O.

Sunday, May 26th, another im- portant change of time will be made on the B. & O. railroad which should be carefully noted by those interested in the time of trains.

The greatest change is in east- bound train No. 108, which now ar- rives here at 4:15 p. m. This will be 20 minutes later, or 4:35 p. m.

Numbers 102 and 105, due here at 5:02 a. m. will be five minutes later, arriving at 5:07 a. m. The night train, due here at 11:11 p. m. will be five minutes earlier, reaching Washington at 11:06 p. m.

The new time card will be in full force commencing Sunday, May 26.

from the effort on the part of an American syndicate to transfer to Japanese business men a concession on the Magdalena bay which had been made to it by the Mexican gov- ernment. Both the American gov- ernment and the Japanese govern- ment discontenanced the proposed transfer and the scheme was drop- ped. The incident shows at least one thing. That is, the willingness of the Japanese government to dis- courage investments or activities on the part of its citizens that might possibly be construed as unfriendly in the United States. However, that will not prevent the profession- al war alarmists from manufactur- ing another war scare in the near future. The builders of big battle- ships and the contractors who fur- nish armor plate need war scares to make a market for their goods.

Another War Scare Fails

Again the Magdalena bay spectre is subdued. President Taft, answer- ing the request from the Senate for information concerning the alleged purchase by the Japanese govern- ment of a naval base on Magdalena bay, on the west coast of Mexico, shows that the Japanese government has bought no ground on Magdalena bay; that it has negotiated for none, and that it does not contemplate any movement of the kind. The denial by Japan of any plans or proposi- tions unfriendly to the United States is as strong, clear, compre- hensive and sweeping as it can pos- sibly be made.

I felt tired and dull all day, my body seemed benumbed at times, and I did not sleep well. My digestion was imperfect and I was continually constipated. As soon as I ate anything my stomach filled with gas and I was distressed for a half hour or more. My mind was dull and my memory very poor. I contracted a cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. Sometime ago I talked with a physician who advised me to take 'Tona Vita'. I did it and am glad I did for the medicine was wonderful in my case. I feel as though I had a new lease on life. My ambition has returned as well as my strength and energy.

"I now sleep well and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work."

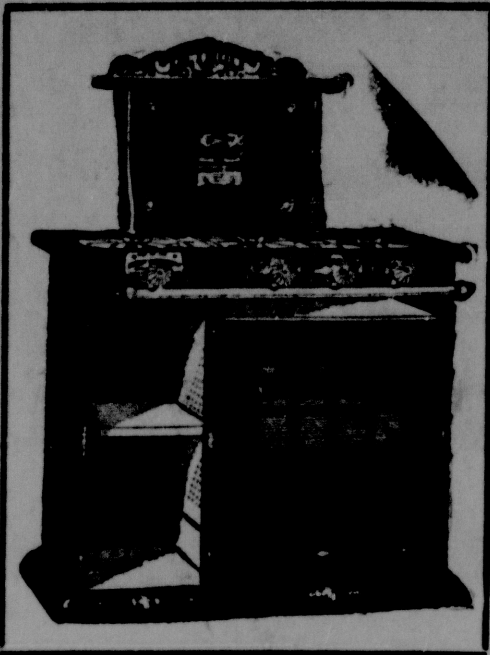

"My wife was also run down and nervous. She started taking the medicine when it began to help me. Her improvement has been fine and she is now in good health."

If you are run down and haven't enough strength it is your own fault if you feel miserable a day longer, when you can get such a preparation as "Tona Vita."

Brown's Drug Store, Court and Fayette streets is agent for Tona Vita in Washington C. H. and will refund the purchase price if it is not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

GIRL ALWAYS WEAK.

Tells How She Became Strong and Vigorous.

"When I see pale, puny children on the street I always wonder what their parents are doing, if anything, to build up their strength," said a well dressed man the other day.

Mary Lang, of Altoona, Pa., was one such child. Her story is told in one of her own letters. "Ever since childhood," she says, "I have been weak and delicate and my blood has been thin and poor. Many different forms of treatment did me no good but last spring I took Vinol and now I am so much stronger and better that I want you to know it. I don't know when I have felt so well and vigorous as I have since taking Vinol."

We only wish that every weak, rundown, sickly person would realize that Vinol is the one best remedy to enrich the blood, build up the body and put the glow of health in pale cheeks. "Your money back if you are not pleased" is the way we sell Vinol, so you can see we believe in it. Blackmer & Tanquary, Drugists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

MORSE'S FREEDOM

Cost Him Quarter of a Million, According to Reports, But He Is Still a Rich Man.

Atlanta, May 23.—It cost Charles W. Morse a fortune, probably $250,000 to secure his freedom from the federal prison in Atlanta, where he spent two years for violating the national banking laws in New York.

Announcement has just been made that the financier, who has just returned to America, possibly to resume operations in Wall street, contracted with the Atlanta law firm of Anderson, Felder, Rountree & Wilson to pay $100,000 for their legal services. In addition he employed Attorney Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, a personal friend of President Taft, to whom he also paid a fee said to have been $50,000. Of the sum that he owes to the Atlanta firm a part has already been turned over to it, and the rest, it is said, will be paid soon.

Atlanta friends say that Morse is still a comparatively rich man with at least $1,000,000, which he has disposed of under the name of his wife, his sister and others.

Shortly after he came to Atlanta he employed Hoke Smith, now United States senator. The former governor is one of the highest priced lawyers in the south. Later on Morse called into his case Reuben Arnold and Lamar Hill, both high-priced counselors.

Then there were the expenses of nurses, physicians, hotel accommodations and traveling expenses for his wife, and other members of his family between Atlanta and other points. —Columbus Dispatch.

Mr. H. M. Daugherty, yesterday refused to discuss the matter of fees, saying, "I always get as much as the services are worth and that holds good in this case," he said. "I did not see President Taft about Mr. Morse, but in company with other attorneys, I did call on the attorney general."

SMITH
Miss Lide Smith died in Springfield last night. The body will be brought here for burial, arriving on the D. T. & I. tomorrow morning.

MAYOR AS A LIFEBOATMAN

Councillor R. T. Thornton of Eastbourne, England, is not only mayor of his city but also an active member of the local lifeboat crew. That crew has been very busy saving lives of late, one of their recent exploits being the rescue of twenty-one of the passengers and crew of the P. and O. liner Oceana at Beachy Head.

NO ALMANAC FOR CHINESE

The Chinese public in the lower part of the nation is in a predicament this year owing to the lack of their usual almanac, which tells them, what days are lucky, what are unlucky, and which gives them similar items of useful information. Each year hundreds of thousands of books are sold, and the publishers got them ready as usual this year. They put on new covers with proper dates, and kept the inside just as it was before, as they were accustomed to do for many years back. Then the new government stepped in and strictly prohibited their sale. The public now has no means of insuring itself perpetual good luck.

STRENGTH OF THE INSECTS

When one is asked to name the strongest animal he generally begins with elephants as the largest, and continue with oxen, horses, and on down through creatures of lesser size. But for real strength proportionate to size, one must go to the insect world. A man's strength is absurdly small compared with that of an insect. The beetle will carry 500 times its own weight on its back. To be proportionately strong a man would have to lift 75,000 or 100,000 pounds, a weight which only the biggest steel freight cars carry. If a man were placed under a box containing five times his weight, he would be held there indefinitely. But to hold a beetle down the box would have to be 1,500 times as heavy as the beetle.

BIGGEST DIOCESE IN WORLD

The most extensive diocese in the world is that presided over by Bishop McDougal, of the English church in South America. It extends from Panama down the Pacific coast. It embraces 2,000,000 square miles and has about 6,000 miles of coast line. The bishop is trying to raise funds for churches and schools for his people, who number several thousand natives of the British Isles.

WONDERFUL MATCH MACHINE

A log of wood and a roll of paper are placed in a new match making machine, and when human hands next touch the material it is all bound up in packages containing one gross of boxes of matches ready for the consumer. During the process the machine cuts the wood into proper lengths, sulphurs the ends, counts them, makes the paper boxes, prints the labels on them, fills each box and packs them.

Foxy Joe McGinnity.

Manager Joe McGinnity of Newark was offered back Joe Agler by the Cubs, but declined to take him, since he is sure Harry Swacina will fill all requirements. Agler and Smith went to the Cubs in a deal by which McGinnity was to get players or cash. Bob Fisher was sent to Newark and a list of others, including Agler, submitted to McGinnity. None of them looked good to him and he demanded cash instead, to the amount of $3,000. President Murphy sent him a check for the amount and Agler went to Jersey City. The deal McGinnity made was a good one, for Fisher bids fair to be worth as much as both Smith and Agler, and Joe has the 3,000 bones besides.

World's Series Games.

The move to increase the world's series from seven games to nine really brings back the plan inaugurated in the modern blue-ribbon event of baseball. Pittsburg and Boston in 1903 were scheduled to play until one team won five. The first four games left the series standing three to one in Pittsburg's favor, but Jimmy Collins' crowd "came back" and took four straight. Mack and McGraw favor nine games.

LEAVE FOR OLYMPIC JUNE 15

Date of Sailing of Athletes is Tentatively Announced in New York—Steamer is Chartered.

The date for the sailing of the American Olympic team is tentatively announced as June 15. The committee has chartered the steamship Finland for the trip, and the boat will be elaborately equipped for the accommodation of the athletes. A track one-eighth of a mile in length will be laid out for the runners and there will be ample spaces assigned for jumping pits and arenas for the shot-putters and weight men. The boat has a fine gymnasium and a large swimming tank.

The Finland will serve as a hotel for the team from the time the boat sails from New York till it docks there on its return. The boat will arrive in Stockholm about ten days before the opening of the Olympic program on July 6 and will leave on its return July 18, three days after the officials close the festival.

The Finland is a larger craft than either the Barbarossa, on which the American athletes sailed to Athens for the Olympic program of 1906, or the St. Paul, which took them to London for the Olympic games of 1908. Accommodations will be reserved for 300 passengers in addition to the athletes, as the treasurer hopes to pay at least part of the expense of transporting the team by revenue gained from other passengers.

Clarke Needed an Actor.

"The only reason I traded Campbell for Donlin," says Clarke, "is that we needed an actor on our team. The Giants and Cubs each have an actor, and we are entitled to one, too." Clarke handed this to Murphy when the Chicago owner began to discuss the whys and wherefores of the Pittsburg-Boston deal.

Association Players Suspended.

Five members of the Toledo Baseball club of the American association were indefinitely suspended, according to a bulletin issued by President Chivington. In each case the player refused to sign a contract. The suspended players are Braden, Graham, Booth, Bowers and Bradley.

HOW MATHEWSON FANNED MIKE MITCHELL

Captain Mitchell, Crack Outfielder of Cincinnati.

"Dode" Faskert tells an interesting yarn on Matty and his headwork. The Reds were playing the Giants and Mike Mitchell was clouting Matty's shoots to all corners of the lot, while Dick Hoblitzel had fanned three successive times.

The Reds had a man on second and a man on third, with two out in the ninth inning, and the Giants had a one-run lead. A single would have won the game and Hobby was the batter. The fans were giving up hope when Matty deliberately passed Hobby to take a chance on Mitchell, who had made two triples and a double in his three trips to the plate.

The fans shouted and laughed. They thought it was all off with Matty. Mitchell had been clouting Matty's fast ball and Mike expected to see the fade-away or Matty's curve come up to the plate. Matty cut loose a fast one straight over the center of the plate. Mitchell was dumfounded and did not even swing.

Then he stepped up closer to the plate because he was positive that the next would be a curve ball. Zip. Another fast one shot straight across the plate. Once again Mike, in his surprise, allowed it to pass. Then he was dead sure he had Matty and that "Big Six" would waste a curve ball. Once again the ball went over the center of the plate. Mitchell was dumfounded and did not even swing.

Matty had deliberately given him three fast balls, without a shoot on them, and all of them were right across the center of the plate and where Mitchell would ordinarily have killed them.

AROUND THE BASES

Walter Johnson pitched 25 innings before he was scored on.

The Chicago White Sox have turned Catcher Tom Carney over to Sioux City.

St. Louis has sold Hickory Johnson, secured by the waiver route from the Giants, to Omaha.

President Fogel has determined to stick to 3:30 as the time for starting games in Philadelphia.

Zimmerman's work at first makes Cub fans wonder why Manager Chance didn't think of him before.

Pitcher Gaiser, returned to the New York Americans by Rochester, has been turned over to the Wilkesbarre Club.

Ty Cobb and Crumb Kahler have declared a vendetta. Cobb says the Nap pitcher purposely hit him with a pitched ball.

The showing of Catcher Wingo with the Cardinals every time he gets a chance makes one wonder why Bliss is in the game.

In spite of auto accidents, railroad wrecks and defeats, Hugh Jennings seems to be as frisky as ever on the coaching lines.

Manager Davis is repeating, "I love you, I love you not," as he considers Jack Graney and Heinie Butcher, his pair of left fielders.

They do say in Cleveland that Lefty George is a warm weather pitcher and will not be started again until the weather begins to boil.

Columbus used fifteen men and Minnesota thirteen in one game. The score was just as bad, 11 to 10, with Minneapolis on the long end.

Cleveland has turned Catcher Bert Whaling back to Seattle. The Naps are left with four catchers, Easterly, O'Neill, Livingston and Adams.

Roy Hartzel is pretty lucky to come out of his collision with Bert Daniels with nothing more than a headache. It was feared for awhile that he was done for.

The American League is going up. The offices of President Johnson have been moved from the thirtieth to the fifteenth floor of the Fisher building in Chicago.

Bobby Vaughn reported to Joe McGinnity's Newark at the eleventh hour.

Pittsburg has sent Infielder Ray Jansen to Wheeling of the Central league.

Mr. Jackson of Boston is not living up to the family name as well as he did last year.

Dave Shean, Cub infielder farmed to Louisville, has been suspended for failure to report to the Colonels.

Charles Severeld, first baseman on the Rockford team for three seasons, will be turned over to the Superior club.

Utica has released Bert Noblett, for several years before going to New York the crack second baseman of the Central league.

Daniel J. Hays, aged fifty-four, and known in his playing days as "Manzy" Hayes, died recently at his home in Brockton, Mass.

The veteran Joe Keenan, last year manager of the London team, has signed with the Hamilton team of the Canadian league.

Johnny Shovelin, who went fast in the Ohio-Pennsylvania league last season, has signed with Newark in the Ohio State league.

Two Mack cast-offs—Hogan of St. Louis and Rath of Chicago—are playing good ball. Rath of the Sox is hitting the ball hard and fielding in excellent style.

Dan Moeller of Washington is one player who can prove that he can come back. On his second trial in fast company he is playing good ball for Washington.

Manager Davis of Cleveland is evidently going to take a leaf out of his former manager's book. He has already signed Captain Nash of the Brown University team.

Cleveland has sent Dick Talbot, product of the Ohio city's sand lots, to Toledo. He was a catcher and made over into an outfielder and will go into the outer garden for Hartzel.

There is a pitcher on the St. Louis Browns who will delight in beating Washington. He is Elmer Brown, who had a trial under Griffith at Cincinnati and was declared no good.

It was a big blow to Wolverton when Harry Wolter was injured; Wolter was playing good ball all around. His hitting and base running was the feature of the team's work up to the time he was put out of the game.

Oscar Vitt, the youngster pick-up by Jennings' last fall for the infield, is versatile. He has never played anywhere but in the infield, but Jennings sent him to the outfield on account of his great hitting, and he is proving a sensation.

"PRISON HOTEL" IN ENGLAND

The first "guests" arrived recently at the new "hotel for habitual criminals" at Camphill, Parkhurst, Isle of Wight. Prisoners who have gained the privileges of living in the "hotel" meet together for meals, although a warder is near at hand. A large reception room has been provided for the convenience of prisoners who desire to receive visitors.

Foxy Joe McGinnity.

Manager Joe McGinnity of Newark was offered back Joe Agler by the Cubs, but declined to take him, since he is sure Harry Swacina will fill all requirements. Agler and Smith went to the Cubs in a deal by which McGinnity was to get players or cash. Bob Fisher was sent to Newark and a list of others, including Agler, submitted to McGinnity. None of them looked good to him and he demanded cash instead, to the amount of $3,000. President Murphy sent him a check for the amount and Agler went to Jersey City. The deal McGinnity made was a good one, for Fisher bids fair to be worth as much as both Smith and Agler, and Joe has the 3,000 bones besides.

World's Series Games.

The move to increase the world's series from seven games to nine really brings back the plan inaugurated in the modern blue-ribbon event of baseball. Pittsburgh and Boston in 1903 were scheduled to play until one team won five. The first four games left the series standing three to one in Pittsburgh's favor, but Jimmy Collins' crowd "came back" and took four straight. Mack and McGraw favor nine games.

LEAVE FOR OLYMPIC JUNE 15

Date of Sailing of Athletes is Tentatively Announced in New York—Steamer is Chartered.

The date for the sailing of the American Olympic team is tentatively announced as June 15. The committee has chartered the steamship Finland for the trip, and the boat will be elaborately equipped for the accommodation of the athletes. A track one-eighth of a mile in length will be laid out for the runners and there will be ample spaces assigned for jumping pits and arenas for the shot-putters and weight men. The boat has a fine gymnasium and a large swimming tank.

The Finland will serve as a hotel for the team from the time the boat sails from New York till it docks there on its return. The boat will arrive in Stockholm about ten days before the opening of the Olympic program on July 6 and will leave on its return July 18, three days after the officials close the festival.

The Finland is a larger craft than either the Barbarossa, on which the American athletes sailed to Athens for the Olympic program of 1906, or the St. Paul, which took them to London for the Olympic games of 1908. Accommodations will be reserved for 300 passengers in addition to the athletes, as the treasurer hopes to pay at least part of the expense of transporting the team by revenue gained from other passengers.

Clarke Needed an Actor.

"The only reason I traded Campbell for Donlin," says Clarke, "is that we needed an actor on our team. The Giants and Cubs each have an actor, and we are entitled to one, too." Clarke handed this to Murphy when the Chicago owner began to discuss the why's and wherefore's of the Pittsburgh-Boston deal.

Association Players Suspended.

Five members of the Toledo Baseball club of the American association were indefinitely suspended, according to a bulletin issued by President Chivington. In each case the player refused to sign a contract. The suspended players are Braden, Graham, Booth, Bowers and Bradley.

AROUND THE BASES

Walter Johnson pitched 25 innings before he was scored on.

The Chicago White Sox have turned Catcher Tom Carney over to Sioux City.

St. Louis has sold Hickory Johnson, secured by the waiver route from the Giants, to Omaha.

President Fogel has determined to stick to 3:30 as the time for starting games in Philadelphia.

Zimmerman's work at first makes Cub fans wonder why Manager Chance didn't think of him before.

Pitcher Gaiser, returned to the New York Americans by Rochester, has been turned over to the Wilkesbarre Club.

Ty Cobb and Crumb Kahler have declared a vendetta. Cobb says the Nap pitcher purposely hit him with a pitched ball.

The showing of Catcher Wingo with the Cardinals every time he gets a chance makes one wonder why Bliss is in the game.

In spite of auto accidents, railroad wrecks and defeats, Hugh Jennings seems to be as frisky as ever on the coaching lines.

Manager Davis is repeating, "I love you, I love you not," as he considers Jack Graney and Heinie Butcher, his pair of left fielders.

They do say in Cleveland that Lefty George is a warm weather pitcher and will not be started again until the weather begins to boil.

Columbus used fifteen men and Minnesota thirteen in one game. The score was just as bad, 11 to 10, with Minneapolis on the long end.

Cleveland has turned Catcher Bert Whaling back to Seattle. The Naps are left with four catchers, Easterly, O'Neill, Livingston and Adams.

Roy Hartzel is pretty lucky to come out of his collision with Bert Daniels with nothing more than a headache. It was feared for awhile that he was done for.

The American League is going up. The offices of President Johnson have been moved from the thirteenth to the fifteenth floor of the Fisher building in Chicago.

HOW MATHEWSON FANNED MIKE MITCHELL

Captain Mitchell, Crack Outfielder of Cincinnati.

"Dode" Paskert tells an interesting yarn on Matty and his headwork. The Reds were playing the Giants and Mike Mitchell was clouting Matty's shoots to all corners of the lot, while Dick Hoblitzel had fanned three successive times.

The Reds had a man on second and a man on third, with two out in the ninth inning, and the Giants had a one-run lead. A single would have won the game and Hobby was the hitter. The fans were giving up hope when Matty deliberately passed Hobby to take a chance on Mitchell, who had made two triples and a double in his three trips to the plate.

The fans shouted and laughed. They thought it was all off with Matty. Mitchell had been clouting Matty's fast ball and Mike expected to see the fade-away or Matty's curve come up to the plate. Matty cut loose a fast one straight over the center of the plate. Mitchell was dumfounded and did not even swing.

Then he stepped up closer to the plate because he was positive that the next would be a curve ball. Zip. Another fast one shot straight across the plate. Once again Mike, in his surprise, allowed it to pass. Then he was dead sure he had Matty and that "Big Six" would waste a curve ball. Once again the ball went over the center of the plate. Mitchell was dumfounded and did not even swing.

Matty had deliberately given him three fast balls, without a shoot on them, and all of them were right across the center of the plate and where Mitchell would ordinarily have killed them.

Bobby Vaughn reported to Joe McGinnity's Newark at the eleventh hour.

Pittsburg has sent Infielder Ray Jansen to Wheeling of the Central league.

Mr. Jackson of Boston is not living up to the family name as well as he did last year.

Dave Shean, Cub infielder farmed to Louisville, has been suspended for failure to report to the Colonels.

Charles Severeld, first baseman on the Rockford team for three seasons, will be turned over to the Superior club.

Utica has released Bert Noblett, for several years before going to New York the crack second baseman of the Central league.

Daniel J. Hays, aged fifty-four, and known in his playing days as "Manzy" Hayes, died recently at his home in Brockton, Mass.

The veteran Joe Keenan, last year manager of the London team, has signed with the Hamilton team of the Canadian league.

Johnny Shovelin, who went fast in the Ohio-Pennsylvania league last season, has signed with Newark in the Ohio State league.

Two Mack cast-offs—Hogan of St. Louis and Rath of Chicago—are playing good ball. Rath of the Sox is hitting the ball hard and fielding in excellent style.

Dan Moeller of Washington is one player who can prove that he can come back. On his second trial in fast company he is playing good ball for Washington.

Manager Davis of Cleveland is evidently going to take a leaf out of his former manager's book. He has already signed Captain Nash of the Brown University team.

Cleveland has sent Dick Talbot, product of the Ohio city's sand lots, to Toledo. He was a catcher and made over into an outfielder and will go in to the outer garden for Hartzel.

There is a pitcher on the St. Louis Browns who will delight in beating Washington. He is Elmer Brown, who had a trial under Griffith at Cincinnati and was declared no good.

It was a big blow to Wolverton when Harry Wolter was injured; Wolter was playing good ball all around. His hitting and base running was the feature of the team's work up to the time he was put out of the game.

Oscar Vitt, the youngster pick-up by Jennings' last fall for the infield, is versatile. He has never played anywhere but in the infield, but Jennings sent him to the outfield on account of his great hitting, and he is proving a sensation.

"PRISON HOTEL" IN ENGLAND

The first "guests" arrived recently at the new "hotel for habitual criminals" at Camphill, Parkhurst, Isle of Wight. Prisoners who have gained the privileges of living in the "hotel" meet together for meals, although a warden is near at hand. A large reception room has been provided for the convenience of prisoners who desire to receive visitors.
